Scored Shutouts Last Week-End.

Continuation of Main Line League Shaughnessy playoffs will push the final five-game series farther into football season. The original schedule arranged will be held tomorrow. Narberth will tangle with Manoa in their deciding game on the community grounds. Gladwyne and Berwyn also will meet as originally slated, in their all-important game to be played on Gladwyne's field.

Winners of the respective games then will start the final five-game series for the championship. Site for the first game Sunday will be chosen by the team which finished higher in the standings. Narberth ended the schedule in first place, followed in order by Gladwyne, Manoa and Berwyn.

Of Juve gave Jack Jeffries' boroughites a "break" when he washed out last week's games. Bud Clancy, the team's leading hurler, has been ailing with a badly twisted knee. While Al Herrmann was scheduled to hurl last Saturday or Sunday, Clancy was to be on hand for relief duties, but his knee bothered him still. The added week's rest should have him in good shape if he is called on. Herrmann is the probable choice because he whipped Manoa two weeks ago.

R. C. Collins, Jr.

New Narberth School Board
Vice-President.

Robert C. Collins, Jr., was elected vice-president of the Narberth School Board Tuesday evening, succeeding Mrs. H. R. Rinehart, who resigned prior to taking up residence in Cynwyd.

Victor Krauskop, electrical engineer, reported on the completed installation of the new lighting system for the primary building (which gives the rooms 2000 watts instead of the previous 400) and which was inspected and approved by the board, whose members were pleased with the rewiring job of Walter G. Case.

Also approved: Physical examinations for all pupils, with town's physicians to be asked to contribute services, to fill in the off year of the State's bi-yearly examination.

Purchase of a sound motion picture projector to replace the old silent one which needs repairs.

A year's sabbatical leave for Miss Margaret Gassner, art supervisor, who will tour Europe beginning next July, peace conditions permitting.

Pay for substitute teachers at $5 per day.

Increase in salary for Joseph M. Barone, musical director.

Repayment of a $7000 temporary loan, the only one necessary during the summer.

Main Lines

Seventh annual flower show of the Lower Merion Junior High School was held at that institution Wednesday evening.

This fall's flower show of the Ardmore Woman's Club last Friday at their clubhouse drew 741 entries, largest number in the history of the club's exhibits.

Lower Merion's crack police pistol team took second place against 61 competitors Saturday in a match at Spring Lake, N. J., with a score of 1477. New York police shot 1489.

Lower Merion's School Board last week approved the purchase of approximately one and one-half acres of ground adjoining the Wynnewood Road School to cost $18,800.

Mrs. Edith C. Read, Villanova, 58, long active in Republican politics and in the League of Women Voters, died September 14 in Bryn Mawr Hospital following a long illness.

Select Play

The Senior Luther League of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church have selected "Treadmill," a three-act comedy-drama, for production November 4-6. Rehearsals will start next Monday evening under the direction of Dorothy Elwood.

Because of the tremendous success enjoyed by the League's play, "Red-Headed Stepchild," last spring, the group intends to produce more than the one play this season.

Cafeteria Use Urged

The school cafeteria menu for each week is posted on the bulletin board in the main hall and consists of soup, two and sometimes three hot dishes, cocoa, milk, tomato juice, three kinds of sandwiches, salads and dessert, ice cream, cookies, pretzels and candy.

Mrs. Mabel Johnson, cafeteria manager, suggests that you have your children stay for lunch whenever possible as the future success of the cafeteria depends greatly upon your co-operation. Increased attendance enables us to serve better lunches at lower prices. Come to visit us—suggestions are always welcome.

Around Our Town

Borough Favored Locale for Wedding Anniversaries

Within eight days Narberth is being the scene of two golden and a silver wedding anniversary celebrations.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. E. Stedem, of Germantown, formerly of Narberth, celebrated their fiftieth wedding celebration Monday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Charles J. R. Becker, 212 Forest. Highlight of the occasion was the reading of a congratulatory letter from President Roosevelt to the Germantown druggist and his wife.

A gathering of the Stedem clan, which included three sons and two daughters and twenty-one grandchildren, started the festive day by attending mass at St. Margaret's Church, celebrated by the Rev. Vincent F. Hamilton.

Saturday night at Elm Hall nearly one hundred guests, including relatives and members of the Drako Club, feted Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hollar, on their silver wedding anniversary. He's the Narberth Printing Company, No. 2 active borough fireman and local baseball-basketball booster-backer. She was Miss Elizabeth Powell of Doylestown before they were married in Camden, N. J., twenty-five years ago and became the parents of Betty, in the Narberth School, and Ruth, wife of William Carson, Drexel Hill, and mother of Bill Carson, Jr.

The third wedding anniversary celebration, a fiftieth, will be at the John C. Marschers, 413 Haverford, Saturday evening, when the honor guests and chief celebrants will be Mr. and Mrs. George C. Newton, of Staten Island, N. Y. Mrs. Marscher is their daughter.

Fireworks are promised at the election, next Tuesday, of the Narberth Fire Company. Young members, who want beer in the fire house, are after the scalp of directors up for re-election, who do not want beer in the fire house.

The new apartments at Narberth and Price avenues have been named. "Montgomery Court" was selected—a suggestion of one of the tenants. One wing is nearly finished and all rented. Rest of the 114-family structure is expected to be ready in a month or so.

On the sick list this week were Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, General Wayne District Republican committeewoman, with a cold, and Dr. Walter Steckbeck, secretary of the Narberth School Board.

Frank A. Schrepfer, Narberth burgess, was too busy to go, as he intended, to Los Angeles' National American Legion convention. A Narberthite who did go is Jack Horner, who led the bugle and drum corps of Houston Post, Philadelphia, State champions and national finalists.

Narberth Young Republicans, meeting last night at the Legion Room, heard borough committee members speak on the coming registration days. Refreshments were enjoyed.

The new frontiers in our economic life can be surmounted, with the vigor and stamina shown during Alaska's gold rush of '98. One man, for instance, built a raft and floated his two-year supply of food and mining implements down dangerous rapids. . . . But first, he had to pack, on his back, over a snow-covered pass too steep for burden animals to climb—his whole 20 tons of provisions.

Lower Merion Principal Ralph Dayenport, former president of Ardmore's Rotary Club, addressed the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotarians Tuesday. Reviewing his summer-of-'38 voyage to Alaska, he told how impressive were the glaciers his ship passed, pointing an ideal of constancy, solidity, integ-

Juveniles Hold Spotlight At Narberth Next 4 Days

The Judge Hardy series, which started out as "program pictures," became so popular they were raised to first-run features. Latest of them is "Love Finds Andy Hardy" in which Mickey Rooney stars. It will be at the Narberth this week-end. Added for the youngsters on Saturday at 1 P. M. is "Ride 'Em Cowboy" and another of the "Tim Tyler" series.

Shirley Temple's latest, "Little Miss Broadway," in which America's Sweetheart is an orphan adopted by the owner of a theatrical hotel, will be shown Monday and Tuesday. You'll like George Murphy as the aristocratic scion who learned tap dancing at Harvard.

Victor McLaglen will be seen in "We're Going to Be Rich" Wednesday and Thursday, while next week-end's attraction will see Edward G. Robinson in one of his major performances as "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse."

EGYPTIAN

Friday and Saturday, September 23 and 24, brings "Cocoanut Grove," one of the year's outstanding musicals to the Egyptian Theater. With Fred MacMurray, Harriet Hilliard, the Yacht Club Boys furnishing the music, and Ben Blue adding a touch of humor to the show.

Sunday and Monday, September 25 and 26, brings Richard Dix, Chester Morris and Joan Fontaine in "Sky Giant." Here is a picture spun from the furious throbs of whirling propellers—of love and hate and high courage, and the men who trade a girl's caress for deadly danger. Here is the screen's most power-packed story of the heroes who blaze the air trails of the future.

Tuesday and Wednesday, September 27 and 28. For those who love Judge Hardy and his family including Mickey Rooney, the Egyptian Theater again brings to their screen "You're Only Young Once." Need more be said about America's favorite family?

The Egyptian Theater is very proud to present on Thursday, September 29, for one night only, another travel show. There will be pictures of Paris, France; Brittany; Budapest, and rural Sweden. The theater recommends this show for those who were disappointed in their vacations this year.

Friday and Saturday, September 30 and October 1, brings a picture that everyone has been waiting for, none other than Robert Taylor in "The Crowd Roars." The supporting cast includes Edward Arnold, Frank Morgan, Maureen O'Sullivan and Lionel Stander.

"Ready on Your Call..."

Years ago, when you placed a long distance call, you waited several minutes until the Operator called you back to say, "Ready on your call..."

Today, more than nine times in ten, your long distance connection is made while you hold the line.

This improvement in service came because Bell management said that it should come — and found the men, methods and machinery to make it possible.

Whenever you need to talk to someone out of town—think of Long Distance. Think of its speed, its ease—how pleasingly personal it is. Think of the time and money it can save you. Think of the low night and Sunday rates for friendly chats. And remember, please, that we are always "ready on your call"—eager and able to serve you well. Chateau Colotte, 229 E. Lancaster, Ardmore, will be the scene of a special meeting of that community's Retail Merchants' Association at 9 P. M. this Friday. Fall opening's the topic, says Roland W. Hill, president.

Ardmore's Retail Merchants' Association last week publicly thanked John T. Durbin, town and township Democratic leader, for his work in obtaining a postponement of the Lancaster avenue repaving project scheduled last August. Ardmore merchants feel that next summer they will be better prepared to stand the loss of business while the work is underway.
